Rain Keeps Many Mystic
Workers at Home
Today.

CROWD IS SMALL

Many Excursion Trains Were Abandoned, and Not Over
2,000 Visitors in City.

THE BASE BALL GAME

The rain this morning was a serious drawback to the Mystic Workers' picnic. Reports came in from all the neighboring towns that the rain has caused a majority of the picnickers to return to their homes and in some towns the entire delegation backed out after getting to the station.

The idea of going to a town for a picnic and standing around in the rain all day is not what it is pictured. A man can find some amusement in doors on a rainy day even if it is a strange town, but a woman has none of those advantages and naturally does not care to take the chances of a wetting.

Defy the Rain
In spite of the threatening weather, quite a number of delegates from the surrounding towns put in an appearance, and spent the day about town. Young ladies in holiday attire, accompanied by their gentlemen escorts strolled about the city and seemed to be enjoying themselves in spite of the threatening weather.

A large delegation was expected from Rockford and Beloit and it is reported that a large crowd was at the depot ready to start for Janesville when it began to rain and all backed out. The time for running the special was postponed on this account and arrived in the city about 1:30 p. m. with a fair sized delegation aboard. The excursion from Madison was abandoned entirely and the pleasure seekers were carried on the regular trains.

Band Disappointed
A large delegation was expected at 10:10 on the Northwestern from Madison and the Imperial band was at the station to meet them.

The bunch, however, was so small that the band retired to its rooms without making a parade.

The Clinton camp with the Clinton cornet band at its head, marched down Milwaukee street about twelve o'clock and was well received.

Crowd Small
The members of the local camp figured that there would be about eight thousand people present at the picnic, but there was no more than one-tenth that number.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH IS DEDICATED; A MONUMENT OF CHRISTIAN LOVE

With Solemn Ceremony, Bishop Muldoon, Assisted by Twenty Priests, Consecrates the Stately Structure to the Worship of the Living God.

With the bright light of mid-day pure melodious quality of her voice streaming through its richly lined, stained glass windows and bathing the faces of a devout, reverent congregation, with its altars aglow with the golden light shed from scores of sanctified candles and beautiful with decorations of sweet breathed roses and trailers of smilax, with solemn prayer and exquisite music, St. Mary's church was today dedicated to its divine mission.

The officiating clergyman in charge of the dedicatory services was Assistant Bishop Muldoon, of Chicago, and the honor of the presence of so distinguished a gentleman was deeply appreciated. Keen personal pleasure was also taken by the congregation that Rev. R. J. Roche, former pastor of the church, was associated with the present pastor, Rev. W. A. Goebel, in the dedicating of the new church home.

Rev. Roche officiated as celebrant during solemn high mass, his assistants being Rev. M. J. Ward, Belmont, deacon; Rev. Peter Rosen, Hollandale, sub-deacon; Rev. J. H. Schiefer, New Munster, master of ceremonies. The other priests who participated in the dedication were Rev. W. A. Goebel, Dean E. M. McGinnity, and Rev. J. J. Collins, of this city; Revs. John Buckley, Delavan; J. M. Bach, Jefferson; James Nicholas, Elkhorn; A. G. Nickel, Eagle; M. A. Condon, Oregon; J. E. Harlin, Edgerton; N. Weyer, Mineral Point; J. G. Flaherty, Rockford; J. O'Rourke, Watertown; F. X. Schneider, Fort Atkinson; and Joseph C. Hartmann, Fox Lake. The services began about 11 o'clock and continued for two hours.

Led by Bishop Muldoon, the solemn procession of clergymen left the rectory and proceeded to the new church building. With the exception of Bishop Muldoon, who was vested in the purple cassock worn by bishops, the clergymen wore the black cassock, white surplice and biretta of the priesthood.

Bishop Muldoon and the clergy marched slowly and impressively to the front door of the church where prayer was offered and asperges given. The priestly body then marched around the building. Bishop Muldoon sprinkling the walls and foundations with holy water while the priests chanted the fiftieth psalm. When the circuit had been completely made and the front door reached again, the bishop knocked on the door, opened it and the clergy entered the sacred building, no one else being permitted to accompany them.

Interior Sprinkled
The priests proceeded around the interior of the building, the bishop sprinkling the walls with holy water. Arriving at the altar Bishop Muldoon offered the prayer dedicating and consecrating the temple to divine service.

At the conclusion of this sacred ceremony the doors of the church were opened to the public and the building was quickly filled. Solemn high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father R. J. Roche and his assistants, the four ministers of the mass wearing rich and costly vestments of cloth of gold, the gift of the ladies of the sodality.

Magnificent Music
The music for this most impressive service of the Catholic church, which gained new dignity and beauty from the personality of the celebrant, was furnished by the large chorus choir of St. Mary's church. Thirty voices harmonized beautifully in the singing of St. Patrick's mass by Wiegand, the solo parts in the mass being taken beautifully by Mrs. George Foster, Miss Lillie Boergmeyer, Miss Axta Gooden, Andrew Gibbons, Anton Hanuski, Peter Neuses and R. E. Winterroth.

In addition to the music of the mass, the service included some splendid vocal solos. For the offertory number Mrs. John G. Rexford sang "Salve Regina" exquisitely, the added infinitely to the beauty of the service.

An Eloquent Sermon
Bishop Muldoon's dedicatory sermon was a masterly one. He regarded the comparison between the old church and the new as a measure of the growth of faith and love in the people. He spoke eloquently of the fact that he church typifies the faithful effort of its pastor, the faith, the hope and the love of its people. It stands as a monument to the one God and rings the lie in the face of the infidel and the indifferent world. The sermon closed with a beautiful expression of congratulations and the hope that all who entered the church in all the years to come would find a rich blessing.

While the audience dispersed, Prof. W. T. Thiele, conductor of the choir, played a beautiful postlude on the organ. The priests adjourned to the rectory where they were entertained by Rev. Goebel and after a season of sociability over fragrant cigars the priestly party went to the old St. Mary's church where an elegant dinner was served by the ladies.

The New Church
The church which was so impressively dedicated today, is a building of which the city may justly be proud.

REV. W. A. GOEBEL

To the congregation whose spiritual home it is, the magnificent edifice represents the zeal and untiring energy and devotion of their pastor, Rev. Father W. A. Goebel, the loyalty of the church members and their devotion for the church, a devotion which has been proved over and over again by self sacrifice and self denial.

Commanding Position
Standing on a prominent hill overlooking the city with its heavenward pointing spire tipped with a golden cross, the church is a magnificent inspiration to the higher life which it typifies. The building is one of the most conspicuous and artistically handsome buildings in Janesville and its walls and spire may be seen from any part of the city.

Built of red Menominee pressed brick, on a foundation of Berea sandstone and ornamented with stone trimmings, the building is one of imposing beauty and has attracted much attention during the construction. Nine hundred thousand brick were used in the building whose extreme dimensions are 78x148 feet. The building itself is 61x138 feet and the top of the spire is 201 feet, 6 inches above the ground. Already the church represents an expenditure of $45,000 outside of the gifts which have cost at least $5,000 more.

A Grand Interior
The grandeur of the interior was seen for the first time today and many finishing touches still remain to be given. The church auditorium with its arched ceiling handsomely lighted with both gas and electricity, reminds the worshiper of the beauty of a cathedral. Pillars of onyx and Italian marble support this ceiling and the entire auditorium is decorated in soft greens, grays and golden tints which harmonize with the coloring of the marble. The sanctuary is decorated in cream and gold and the altar in white and gold.

Stained Glass Windows
Nothing adds more to the beauty of the church which was so impressively dedicated today, than the windows, the most of which are of imported antique glass, handsomely designed and richly colored. One of the two windows in the sanctuary was the gift of the Guard of Honor, a men's society connected with the church and the other is a memorial window for the late Charles Maloy.

The windows in the auditorium are the handsomest in the city and are characterized by beauty of design, rich coloring, handsome drapery and artistic figures. Those on the west side of the church represent Scriptural subjects relating to the life of the Blessed Virgin. They are arranged in chronological order. "The Immaculate Conception" is the gift of the Kennedy family, a memorial for the late Joseph Kennedy.

"St. Anne, Mother of the Virgin," is one of the most beautiful windows and is the gift of the Young Ladies' Sodality. "The Annunciation" is a memorial for the late Mr. and Mrs. Martha Shekey. "The Visitation" was given by the Married Ladies' Sodality, the scene represented being explained in the first chapter of Luke, and "The Coronation" is the gift of the Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters, Court 175.

Scenes From Life
On the east side of the church, the windows represent scenes from the life of Christ. "The Holy Family" was presented to the church by its former pastor, Rev. R. J. Roche, of Milwaukee. "Christ Healing the Sick Child" is a memorial window for the late Mr. and Mrs. James Campion. "The Resurrection" is the gift of Andrew and the late Martin Barron and "The Sacred Heart" was given by the Schmidley family. "The Ascension" is a memorial for the late E. P. Schlater.

In The Choir Gallery
The handsome rosette window in the choir gallery is of American glass and is appropriate in design, bearing the busts of King David with his harp and of St. Cecilia. It was the gift of the choir. The three windows in the vestibule were given by the Children of Mary, St. Aloysius society and the Catholic Order of Foresters, Court 229. The floor in the vestibule is tiled.

In the church the decorations are in plastic relief, the frieze is finished in oil with metallic effect, the fixtures are of antique brass and the hand carved, red oak pews are to have the antique finish. The entire church is to be carpeted with rich red Wilton velvet carpets, the gift of the sodality. On the left side of the altar is the sanctuary bench above which is to be placed a panel on which "The Flight into Egypt" is to be reproduced in pyrography, the handiwork of Mrs. Ed. Bailey.

The Chapel
In the basement of the church is the chapel, conveniently arranged for short winter services, choir rehearsals and society meetings. It is heated and lighted independently of the auditorium and during the winter the chapel will be kept heated night and day. Back of the chapel is the boiler room, having sufficient boiler and flue capacity to heat the church, the rectory and any other buildings which may be erected on the grounds.

The building committee to whom great credit is due for the successful achievement which the church edifice represents consists of Rev. Father W. A. Goebel, chairman; Andrew Barron, secretary; John Campion, treasurer; Frederick Roessling, superintendent, Peter Neuses, William Kennedy and John Doran.

IRISH PATRIOT IS ON TRIAL

Col. Lynch Is Arraigned in London Court and Waives Examination

HIS WAR RECORD

Is a Member Elect of Parliament From Irish Province.

CHARGE IS TREASON

London, June 14.—Col. Arthur Lynch, the Irish M. P., accused of high treason, was arraigned this morning. A treasury representative offered proof that Lynch was a British subject when he took up arms in behalf of the Boers. The attorney for the accused said that his client was willing to admit all that had been done by himself in order to hasten the trial.

Evidence Presented
The detective who made the arrest testified that he found evidence on Lynch's person, cards introducing Mr. Lynch as "Col. Lynch of the Boer army." The case was remanded until Saturday next.

Career of Prisoner
Colonel Lynch is a native of Australia, and in that country he made his reputation as an author and a journalist. Prior to his departure for South Africa he conceived the idea of organizing a regiment on the military principles of Theodore Roosevelt's rough riders, and to that end he visited the United States and applied to Mr. Roosevelt for full information concerning the tactics, drill and other features of the rough riders' organization.

Equipped with this knowledge the Australian set out for the seat of war in the capacity of a newspaper correspondent. It is said that he was not and became a belligerent. Upon special permission from President Kruger Mr. Lynch organized the Second Irish brigade, which he led in battle under the command of General Botha. His brigade fought valiantly, covering the retreat through Natal and fighting at Kip river, Johannesburg and Pretoria.

On the fall of the Boer capital the brigade was disbanded and its commander left South Africa and went to Paris.

While he was leading his command in South Africa, Colonel Lynch was nominated for parliament and was elected in November by an overwhelming majority in the City of Galway district in which he was running. At this time Mr. Lynch was in Paris. He issued an address to his constituents, in which he promised that when he took his seat he would do all in his power to promote the industrial prosperity of Ireland and would endeavor to secure for the port of Galway a steamship line which would ply between Ireland and the United States.

This address was pacific in tone, and was evidently written in all sincerity without the slightest indication that Mr. Lynch considered himself ineligible for a seat in the British legislature.

Since that time he has been carefully watched by the Scotland Yard police. It was his first intention to smuggle himself in the house of commons and take the oath before the authorities could lay hands on him.

THE GOVERNOR IS RESPONSIBLE

TO BLAME FOR FAILURE OF LEGISLATURE REGARDING TAXATION.

Senator Whithead Shows Up the Methods Used by the Chief Executive That Blocked Action and Discredited the Tax Commission.

Senator Whithead takes up in his twelfth letter the legislation that was not enacted at the last session of the legislature owing to the obstructive methods used by the governor. The letter shows up the fact even after the bills had been introduced they were withdrawn at the dictation of the Governor.

The letter is as follows: Janesville, Wis., June 13, 1902.

To The Gazette: The Commission determined, as a preliminary step to their investigations, to ascertain as accurately as possible, first, the actual value of the taxable real estate of the state, and, secondly, the actual value of the taxable personal property of the state. The former was felt to be by far the more important, for, as statistics of assessment show that real estate constitutes nearly five-sixths of all the property assessed for general taxation, it may reasonably be taken as the standard by which all other classes of property are to be measured; proceeding, of course, upon the theory that "the general property tax with the ad valorem basis as the distinguishing feature will be maintained. The license fee system where applied in the case of quasi-public corporations, is understood to be merely a convenient and economical method of administering in special cases the ad valorem system; for, though the license fees in nearly all or quite all cases are determined in an arbitrary manner, it has generally been assumed that the burden imposed by this method should bear a proper and just relation to the taxes paid by the classes of property which pay directly on the ad valorem basis. If, therefore, the actual value of the taxable real property of the state could be ascertained, the assessed value being a matter of annual record, the work of determining the average ratio of assessment of real property for the state would be easy. The ratio, once ascertained, the basis for comparison of the different amounts of taxes paid by different classes of property could be determined, providing that the actual value of other properties also might be learned."

The methods adopted by the Commissioners to ascertain real estate values were applied to a term of five years. They first determined the average ratio of assessment to the actual value of real estate to be 43.4 per cent. The total taxable value of real estate was then computed to be $1,192,877,499. The values so ascertained by the Commission for each county in the state were tabulated. The Commissioners said:

"If we have determined, as we confidently believe we have, the approximate value of the total taxable real estate in Wisconsin, the first important step toward making possible an equalization of the tax burden has been taken."

The valuation of personal property presented another and more difficult question. I have quoted in other letters from the reports of both Tax Commissions, expressions of their own and the views of others as to the elusiveness of personal property. The statute recognizes the difficulty of reaching such property, by the urgency, on the one hand, with which it enjoins assessors to seek it out, and, on the other, by the power of arbitrary assessment which it vests in the assessor. The Commissioners report:

"The ratio which the assessed value of personal property in this state, exclusive of railroad property, bears to the total assessed value of real and personal property, exclusive of railroad property, is 19.62 per cent, as based on the assessors' returns for 1898. This, it may be remarked, is a larger proportion than is shown by many of the states. The smallest proportion we find in Tennessee (12.29), where they claim to have made special efforts to reach personal property for taxation, and this only emphasizes the facility with which personal property eludes the utmost vigilance of tax laws and taxing officers."

The computations of the Commission to ascertain the value of personal property over a period of five years, and are also tabulated for counties in their report. They found the market value of all personal property in the state to be $251,723,774. The Commissioners say:

"Of course such a computation does not reach the heart of the problem, because there still remains the probability that some at least of the intangible personal property has not been assessed at all. In the data already referred to in connection with real estate as having been furnished by the railroad companies, the total value of personal property estimated in the 16 counties is given at $9,230,273, and the assessed valuation at $2,922,142, showing a ratio of 35.5 per cent, or substantially the same as the real estate ratio shown by the same authority."

To ascertain the value of railway property in this state, the Commissioners used the stock and bond method for a five year period, as I have shown in a preceding letter, and found the total market value of all railways in Wisconsin to be $217,995,718.

The legislature convened on January 9th. The Governor read his message on January 10th. The portion of the message relating to taxation was referred in the senate, under Senator McGillivray's resolution, to the Committee on Assessment and Collection of Taxes, on January 16th. The same portion of the message was referred in the Assembly, under the resolution of Mr. Hall, to the corresponding Committee of which he was Chairman, on January 16th. The Legislature adopted a joint rule to the effect that the Committees on Assessment and Collection of Taxes of the two houses should constitute a joint committee to hear arguments and conduct hearings on all bills referred to such committees, on January 17th. The Committees on Assessment and Collection of Taxes of each house promptly requested the Tax Commission to prepare one bill relating to the taxation of railroads on the gross percentage basis, according to the recommendations of their report, and to prepare another bill for their ad valorem taxation. These two bills were known respectively in the Senate as Nos. 94 and 95, and in the Assembly as Nos. 165 and 164. They were handed to the chairman of the Committees by the Tax Commission and immediately introduced into each house on January 30th. Printed copies of the bills and notices of the hearings thereon were sent out to the representatives of all the railroads in the state by the chairman of the joint committee, on January 31st. The hearing was fixed for February 26th. At the date appointed, the representative of one of the railroad companies was seriously ill. The hearing was adjourned until the following week, when the bills were taken up and elaborately argued. The hearings extended over four days. The principal committees of both houses discontinued their meetings, so that almost the entire committee time of the legislature for a week was given over to listening to the arguments presented against the bills by the representatives of the railway companies, and in behalf of the bills by the Tax Commissioners.

Among the main arguments advanced against the bill, which proposed an increase of the rate of taxation under the gross percentage system, was that the investigation instituted by the railway companies showed the rate of assessment of real property for taxation to true value to be 35.7 per cent, or less, as against the rate of 43.4 per cent, established by the Tax Commission. They objected most strenuously to the stock and bond valuation of railways. They objected also to any increase in railway taxation, on the ground that, so long as the bulk of the personal property in the state was not taxed, an unjust share of the burden was already borne by the railway companies. They called to their support the tables from the Governor's message, quoted at the end of my third letter, and his remarks in regard to the taxation of stocks, bonds and mortgages, and of bank deposits. They quoted from the Governor's message again and again, this remark, "It is but just to note in this connection that, as appears by the above tables, the railway companies have been farther than the average of individuals, who, as to the great mass of personal property, assess themselves; the percentage of assessed of market value of the railways being 20.5-100 as against 12.9-100 for all other personal property. In 1899," The Tax Commissioners answered, as in their report that one class of property, on which taxes were successfully levied and collected, should be compared with another class which paid its taxes, and that it was not fair to release the railways from a part of their share of the taxes shown to be just; by a comparison of their rate of taxation with the rate at which taxes were levied upon real estate and upon personal property that was taxed.

The apparent discrepancies between the figures in the report of the Tax Commission and those in the tables furnished by the Governor, the preference given by the Governor to figures prepared outside of the office of the Tax Commission to those prepared by the Commission, the recommendations of the Governor with preference to energetic efforts to reach intangible personal property for taxation, especially bank deposits the fact that the Governor did not recommend any increase of ratio and, on the contrary, acquitted the railway companies of unfairness in assessing themselves all entered into the presentation of their case by the representatives of the railway companies, and were made the most of in their skillful and stubborn resistance to the proposition of the Commission that the rate of percentage of taxation on the railways should be increased.

The Governor, not having recommended the adoption of the ad valorem method, and the Tax Commission, having occupied a very conservative attitude with respect to change of method, as I have shown by citations from their report, the representatives of the railway companies were able to make very effective appeals to the Legislature to proceed slowly in making such important changes in the method of taxation, as would be involved in the abandonment of the gross percentage system and the adoption of the ad valorem method.

After the conclusion of the arguments, the bills were to be considered by the Committee of each house by itself. In the Assembly Committee No. 165-A, the bill relating to the percentage system, was taken up first. A majority of the Committee recommended its indefinite postponement. The Chairman and two other members of the Committee who dissented, brought in a minority report, which plainly bore the marks of the Chairman's handwork. Of the Commissioners it was said:

"A commission was appointed composed of men of such recognized integrity and ability that they had the confidence of every citizen of the state, including the officials of the railroad companies."

And of the report to the Legislature it was affirmed:

"The tax commission, among other work performed, did make a thorough investigation of the question of railroad taxation."

A resume of the facts and conclusions stated by the Tax Commission in their report was given.

After a vigorous effort made on the floor to save the bill by amendment, the Assembly, on a roll-call vote, rejected the bill. The vote stood, "Ayes, 39; noes, 50; absent or not voting, 9; paired, 2." No. 164-A, the bill relating to ad valorem taxation, was then brought forward. The committee was again divided, but the majority in this case favored the bill. It was reported for passage. The contest over it on the floor was spirited. On May 2nd, on a roll-call vote,

ALUMNI REUNION A HAPPY EVENT

MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1902 ARE GUESTS OF HONOR.

An Elegant Banquet Is Followed by a Program of Clever Toasts and Inspiring Music—Two Generations Are Now Represented in the Membership—War Class Honored.

Cordial was the welcome which the class of 1902, Janesville High school, was received into the ranks of the alumni association last evening. Guests of honor they were and around them centered all the interest of the occasion. Their colors, red and gold, were everywhere in evidence and every possible courtesy was shown them by the members of the older classes.

The annual reunion of the Alumni association was held in the High school building, the hours of the reception being from 6:30 until 11 o'clock. On their arrival the guests met in the general assembly room where greetings were exchanged and an informal social time enjoyed until shortly after seven o'clock when Miss Imogene MacDonald, president of the association, called the roll of the classes and the march to the banquet hall began.

The representatives of the classes formed in line according to the year of their graduation and marched by couples through the hall and up the stairway to the door of the gymnasium where the banquet was served. The former graduates then separated into two lines and through the aisle thus formed the members of the graduating class, the faculty and the board of education were ushered to their seats.

The class of 1902 was seated at a T shaped table in the center of the room which was handsomely decorated with red and gold, the Juniors kindly leaving their decorations in place. The soft rosy light from the red-shaded incandescent bulbs fell on a pretty scene as the guests gathered around the banquet tables. Red ponies were used in abundance on the tables and red and gold candles with shades of the same colors added to the decorating scheme.

The Banquet Served An appetizing three-course supper was faultlessly served, the ladies of the Baptist church, caring for the catering in a faultless manner, and a committee from the Junior class waiting on the tables prettily and gracefully. The Juniors who served were Winfield Fifeid, Alice Harper, Imagard Keller, Helen Estes, Elisabeth McKee, Josephine Fenton, Lulu MacDonald, Ethel Granger, Ida Stoddard, Evelyn Packer, Agnes Richards, Harriet Hutson, Mame Curless, May Humphrey, Irene Crowley, Nettie Holt, Harold Hall, Kramer Doty, Laurence Doty, Harold Smith, Stow Lovejoy, Charles Galbraith, Pliny Wilbur, Verne Murdock, Fred Welch and Harry Jones.

The Postprandial. The banquet was followed by a splendid program of toasts and music, every number being of unusual excellence. Miss Imogene MacDonald presided charmingly as toastmistress, her bright and witty introductions adding much to the evening's pleasure.

The first number on the program was a selection by the mandolin orchestra, the players being Harry Hagart, Edward Wray and Laurence Doty. Selections from "Martha" were enthusiastically encored and "My Creole Belle" was given in response. Later in the evening the orchestra played "The Holy City" with "Tell Me Pretty Maiden" from "Florodora" for an encore. Each one of the numbers was exquisitely played.

Welcomes the Class. Miss MacDonald, in a half humorous, half serious way, which was very entertaining, welcomed the class of 1902 in behalf of the Alumni association and Frank Holt, president of the class of '02, responded very happily, thanking the association for its welcome and promising the allegiance of the latest class to join its ranks.

Music and Humor. The next number was a piano duet, Misses Elva Crawford and Ada Pond delighting the audience with a brilliant interpretation of the "Hungarian Dances" by Brahms.

In a very interesting way Fred Sutherland responded to the toast "The Life of a Doctor," telling in a humorous way of some of the hardships and of the special delight of the ostracism which follows a small pox case.

Miss Alice Fenton's response "A Different Point of View" was also humorous and was greatly enjoyed by the audience. She told of the curious demands on a school teacher and related some amusing incidents of her own experience.

Witty Toasts. "Though We Look Down In the Mouth, We Are Not Sad" was the witty and appropriate toast in which John Whiffen asserted that the more dentists look down in the mouth the happier they are. His response was bright and interesting.

Miss Isabelle Menzies captured the honors of the evening by her clever response "Behind the Scenes at Commencement." It was written after the style of "Hawatha" and was characterized by originality and talent.

One of the most delightful numbers was the vocal solo "Love, the Pedlar" by German, which was sung by Mrs. John G. Rexford, Mrs. W. T. Sherer playing her accompaniment. In response to an insistent encore, Mrs. Rexford sang "My Jewish" by Some Funny Stories.

"To Be or Not to Be a Banker," by W. S. Jeffris, president of the Board of Education, was a collection of funny stories and amusing suggestions. His advice to the graduates included such items as the following: "If you want to get ahead at once, raise cabbage; or you might go into the brewery business with a kangaroo and a bear, the kangaroo for hops and the bear for bruin."

One of the best responses was given by Mrs. B. F. Carle on "The Ideal Occupation." She gave in a happy manner some of the trials and advantages of housekeeping, the occupation when the "boss" is always willing to give a day off and the pay goes on just the same.

S. C. Burnham representing the war class of 1904 which shared in first honors last evening, gave a few interesting reminiscences and extended the greetings of '04 very happily to '02.

A Plea to Alumni. Under the subject, "What Next?" Supt. H. C. Duell feelingly bespoke the continued interest of the Alumni association in the classes to come, the "What Nexts" and urged the value of making the association one of greater numbers. He referred to the happy fact that three of the mothers present now had daughters in the association. Mrs. L. F. Biglow '04 whose daughter Lucy is a graduate this year, Mrs. W. H. Merritt, '03, whose daughter Mary is also a member of '02 and Mrs. J. P. Wright, '72 who has two daughter graduates, Grace, '99 and Edna '02.

A Splendid Chorus. The program closed with the singing of the class song by the class of '02. The class sang beautifully under the direction of Miss Edith Loomis and with Miss Josephine Treat at the piano. After this number, the reunion came to a happy close with a short social session.

THE GOVERNOR IS RESPONSIBLE

the bill was "killed." They ate, stood "Ayes, 45; noes, 51; absent or not voting, 4." This vote was taken on the same day that the veto message relating to No. 267-A came in.

After this last action in the Assembly, the chairman of the two committees on Assessment and Collection of Taxation conferred with the Tax Commissioners, and it was decided that all the tax bills prepared by the Commission and still in the hands of the Committees should be withdrawn. On May 2nd, unanimous consent was asked and obtained in the senate by the chairman of the senate committee to withdraw Nos. 24-S, 215-S, 216-S, 217-S, 218-S, 219-S, 234-S and 235-S, and on May 4th in the Assembly like consent was asked and obtained by the chairman of the committee of that body to withdraw Nos. 279-A, 377-A, 378-A, 379-A, 380-A, 381-A, 382-A, 510-A, 511-A. These were the bills relating to the other great corporations, such as street railways, telegraph and telephone companies, etc. As was usual in matter pertaining to the business of their respective committees, the Chairman, in withdrawing these bills, acted in harmony and after full conference with each other, and with the Tax Commission. The Chairman of the Assembly Committee was a man of conspicuous ability and particularly well informed upon taxation questions. He had the confidence of the Assembly, and, until the session was far spent, he had cherished the hope that some strong and effective tax legislation could be enacted. He was outspoken in his admiration for the Tax Commissioners. He unreservedly expressed his satisfaction that the State had a Tax Commission. He repeated entire confidence in their report. It was manifestly a keen disappointment to him that he was unable to carry either of these bills through the Assembly. The friends of these bills and of the Tax Commission realized fully the truth of the words of David A. Wells in his report to the New York Legislature in 1871, which were quoted in the report of our First Tax Commission as follows:

"Any commission, which properly discharges the duties assigned to it, is likely to occupy advanced positions and do more than merely reflect the average of existing public sentiment; and as all experience has thus far shown that legislative bodies in the United States rarely, if ever, act in advance of public opinion, it would seem absolutely essential that the material of information should be first afforded to the public, with time for thought and discussion, before reform in the way of legal enactments can be reasonably asked for or expected."

Our Tax Commission in their report said:

"A bill for the revision of the entire system has not been prepared, as experience in many states has shown that such bills, however carefully framed, have not, as a rule, been enacted in laws and generally are not received with favor or satisfaction."

A very interesting experiment, made since the above was written, has shown the truth of the statement. In 1901, the Legislature of that state appointed a Tax Commission "to make a tax code for the state of Minnesota." This code was to "include a complete system for the just and equitable taxation of all forms of property, both tangible and intangible," and to provide "for a permanent Tax Commission." It was to be "prepared in the form of a bill or bills for presentation to the Legislature." The Commission was able. It did its work well. A significant feature of the report was the discovery of need of constitutional changes in order to let in a code such as the Commission brought forward. The report seemed to be received with public favor. The Legislature met in special session to receive and act on the report. The Commission made and presented a tax code all in good form. The Legislature at first were disposed to adopt it, and then they discussed and rejected it.

Dyspepsia Cure

Digests
Eat

Dyspeptics cannot regain health and strength by living upon half rations. They must eat plenty of good food and digest it. To enable them to do this they should use something that will help the stomach do its work. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE is such a preparation. It digests what you eat and supplies the substances needed to build up the worn out digestive organs.

Prof. J. Iverson, of Lonsconing, Md., says: "For thirteen years I suffered agony from dyspepsia and neuralgia of the stomach. I tried almost everything and doctors drugged me nearly to death with morphine, but temporary relief was all I could obtain till I was advised to use KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE. The first dose gave me relief. I bought my first bottle in March, 1900, and I have not had a single pain since. It has completely cured me. I cannot endorse it too highly."

It can't help but do you good

"I have found Wine of Cardui an excellent remedy for female trouble. I suffered for three years with terrible bearing-down pains at the menstrual period. I could hardly stand on my feet and was never real well. Wine of Cardui was the only medicine that I could depend on to do me any good, as I tried several with no success. Wine of Cardui cured me and I have now enjoyed perfect health for two years, and give you all the credit for I know you deserve it."

GAVE THE CHIEF A MERRY CHASE BUT FAILED TO GET AWAY

Two Subjects are Captured by the Police and Now Held in Jail.

Chief Hogan and Officer Fanning picked up a couple of suspicious characters last night about six o'clock and put them in the lock-up for safe keeping. They claimed to be engravers out of a job and were on their way to Neenah. The officers picked up one of the pair up near the St. Paul station where they were having a good time with some of the "White Light Club." The other one kept out of the officers' way and went across the river near the gas house.

Ran Away
The Chief and Officer Fanning drove up that way shortly after they had put the first one in the lock-up. The second one saw them coming and started on a run up over the tracks toward the Hanson factory. The Chief drove up onto Bluff street and started Fanning across lots toward the factory while he drove around onto Hickory street.

Hid From Hogan
The man instead of going towards the Hanson factory dodged down over the railroad bank and hid in an old building in the rear of Mrs. Haggen's home. He stayed in there for a while until he thought the officers had gone and then started for down town. Chief Hogan not finding the man around the cars near the Hanson factory started back down street and had the pleasure of having the man walk out of Haggen's yard right into his hands.

Find Tools
The chief secured the grip which the man had hidden in the out house and took the man to the lock-up. The grip contained some engravers' tools and the man claimed that he was out of a job and that he would walk out of town at once if the chief would release him. The chief thought as long as there was a picnic in town he would be just as safe with the two locked up so kept them under key.

YOUNG WOMAN IS BADLY INJURED

Leyden Miss Struck by Mail Sack from Train and Knocked Down.

A young woman residing at Leyden was quite badly hurt last evening while standing on the railroad platform waiting to take a train to this city. The Badger State express, due here at 7:05 p. m., was going through the station at a high rate of speed and the girl was standing close to the train watching it pass. The mail clerk opened the door to his car and threw out a heavy mail sack, which struck the young woman knocking her down and injuring her quite badly about the face, neck back and shoulders.

The train was stopped and the young woman was brought to this city where she was attended by Dr. W. H. Palmer, the company's surgeon. He found that no bones were broken although she was quite severely bruised. The train was about twenty minutes late in here, on account of the accident.

Description Received: Chief of Police Hogan received a letter yesterday from Francis O'Neill, chief of the Chicago police force saying that he had filed descriptions of the jewelry stolen from the Vankirk and Denison homes in Chicago, so it would be recognized if offered for sale. The chief had a letter from the chief of police at Appleton giving a description of a lot of jewelry stolen from homes in Appleton in the same manner as from the Denison and Vankirk homes in this city. He is of the opinion that the same party that robbed the houses here is the same one that is operating in other cities throughout the state. He does not seem to spend more than one day in any one town.

BRAIN LEAKS.

The prettiest picture the eyes can feast upon is a baby face framed in a window.

We know some musical critics who will insist upon telling Gabriel that he lacks technique.

Some men are always so busy bragging about themselves that they never hear opportunities knock.

One of the prettiest sights imaginable would be that of a mother playing the piano while her daughter washed the dishes.

We can not blame a boy for not paying much attention to the father who takes a cigar out of his mouth to offer advice against the use of tobacco.

"Wisdom is good, with an inheritance," says the Good Book. Which reminds us of the ever-present patriot who is always shouting for the old flag and an appropriation.

Baby feet have an infinity for mud, but there comes a time in the history of every home when the parents would give all they possess for the sign of a tiny foot print in the front hall.

YOUNG SCOTT BOY SWALLOWS A PIN

While Picking His Teeth, He Swallows It, and Suffers Much Pain—Brought to City.

George H. Scott, of Juda, the eleven year old son of J. W. Scott, of that place, had an experience yesterday evening that he does not care to undergo again and one that will teach him not to use a pin for picking his teeth.

About seven o'clock last night, he was picking his teeth with a large sized pin, when it slipped out of his fingers and down his throat, where it lodged in such a way that it could not be extracted.

The pin caused the boy intense pain and his father hitched up a pair of horses and carried the boy to Monroe to a doctor. The doctor at Monroe tried to get the pin out through the boy's mouth, but hurt him so badly, that he fought all the time and he finally had to give the job up.

Mr. Scott took the boy back home and this morning brought him to this city to Dr. Gibson. The doctor found that the pin was imbedded in the muscles of the throat, just back of the Adams apple. He made an incision in the boy's throat and soon had the pin. The little fellow was much relieved when the pin was taken out and said he hoped he would never have to suffer another night as he did last. His father has the pin which caused the trouble and he is going to keep it as a souvenir.

CAUCUS LAWS AS THEY ARE

Secretary W. A. Jackson States the Caucus Law as It is To Be Followed.

A caucus under the laws of this state is a meeting of the members of a political party, held for the purpose of nominating candidates or choosing delegates to a convention. It is not a meeting of members of different political parties. No person is authorized to vote at such a meeting unless he belongs to the party for which the caucus is called. The call of a caucus indicates the party by which it is held.

The chairman and secretary of every caucus called under the statute is required to take an oath that he will faithfully, honestly and correctly conduct the election to be held at such caucus and that he will protect it from all fraud and unfairness. The requirements of this oath impose upon the chairman and secretary the duty of seeing that no unauthorized person casts a ballot at such meeting. The imposition of this duty upon the Chairman and Secretary requires them to scrutinize the proceedings for fraud or unfairness and carries with it authority to take such measures as are necessary to prevent any unauthorized person from casting a ballot at such meeting. This authority vests in the Chairman and Secretary the discretion to take such names as they think are necessary to properly conduct the caucus in accordance with the terms of their obligation, and to reject any votes that are not cast in pursuance of the provisions of said statute.

BASE BALL PARK ON GOOSE ISLAND

Idea Is To Play Ball Here on Sunday Will Run in Outside Excursions.

An effort is now being made to form a stock company in this city for the purpose of securing the twenty acres of land near the Gas houses known as Goose Island, the same to be made into a modern base ball park. The idea is to play Sunday ball in Janesville.

Plenty of base ball talent is to be secured in this city, in fact no place in Wisconsin can offer such strong base ball talent as is today to be found in the Bower City. Many of the players are professionals of the first class.

That Sunday base ball in Janesville would be a decided success there is no doubt. Those who have the present plan in hand expect to expend about $500 and provided the plan is carried out will run an excursion here from outside cities.

BADLY HURT AT BASE BALL

No one knows whether he was struck by the bat or the ball.

Just as the accident occurred, Dr. M. A. Cunningham drove into the park and he was hastily summoned to where the boy lay limp on the ground. Six stitches were taken in the lip where the boy's teeth had cut through.

EVEN THE BLIND ENJOY SCENERY

Can Not Be Fooled by a Foxy Driver, Who Is Told to Drive On.

It is not always best to take it for granted that because people are attending the State School for the Blind, that they cannot see. A driver for a West Side liveryman discovered this fact in a way that is quite funny and the boys around town are having considerable sport at his expense.

A day or two ago the liveryman received an order from the school for a carriage to take four of the blind boys out riding for a couple of hours. He had a pair of horses hitched onto a rubber tired hack and sent the rig out after the boys.

Before the man left the barn the liveryman said to him: "Those boys cannot see, so there is no use hanging them around town over the crosswalks, pick out a smooth piece of road and drive around for a couple of hours, it won't make any difference to them."

The driver picked up his load and brought them down town. After driving around through the city for a short time, it occurred to him that the race track was level and smooth and he would go up there and drive around the track. He went up to the track and drove around a couple of times and was just about to start on the third circuit of the ring and was congratulating himself on the snap he was having driving around the track, when one of the boys leaped out of the open window and said: "We have seen all the scenery about this race track that we care to, if you have anything to show us besides this we would like to see it."

To say that he driver was taken back is putting it mild. He felt like falling out of the seat to be caught at his own game by blind boys. He at once left the fair grounds and gave the boys a change of scenery.

The boys were delighted with their drive and made no mention of the fact that they had to call the driver, when they settled for the rig.

Chief Hogan had a trio of drunks in the municipal court yesterday. Pat Moriarty was given $3.20 or six days. John Tull $6.20 or twelve days and Pat Clark three days and $5.20, or eight additional days. Not having the coin wherewith to settle they went to jail.

ART CLUB GO TO BURR SPRINGS

Spend the Day Pleasantly at the Beautiful Resort, and Take Many Pictures.

Twenty-five members of the Janesville Art League enjoyed an all-day picnic yesterday at Burr's Springs, having accepted the invitation of Mrs. Laura Burr to spend the day at her summer home. The trip to and from the grounds, in Mrs. Burr's new boat, was a source of great pleasure and was but one of the delightful features of the day. A picnic dinner and supper were served in Mrs. Burr's cottage and while the Art League has often enjoyed Mrs. Burr's hospitality they never had a better time than on yesterday.

Plans were made for several picnics to be held during the summer. The next outing will have a double pleasure, the ladies being entertained by Mrs. Walter Helms at her cottage up the river and by Mrs. Whitney Fisher at her country home. The day will be devoted to the study of Rosa Bonheur's work. Kodak views and sketches of animals will be made by the members of the Art League. One of the picnics will be held at Geneva Lake, the ladies being the guests of Mrs. P. J. Mount.

TEXTILE STOCKS ARE LIGHT

Wheat Exports Show a Falling Off from Last Week, but Gain 37,000, 000 to Date Over Last Year—Corn Shipments Steady.

New York, June 14.—"No diminution in business is apparent from labor controversies, owing to the prosperous condition of the agricultural sections and the bright outlook for this year's crops. Retail distribution of light-weight wearing apparel has felt the stimulus of higher temperature. Railway earnings in May were 8.7 per cent larger than last year and 21.7 per cent above those of 1900." R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade thus sums up the business situation. Continuing, the review says:

"There continues to be a wide discrepancy between the amount of business offered and the contracts closed in many branches of the iron and steel industry owing to inability of producers to assure delivery at a specified time. Contracts running well into next year indicate that the end of activity is not near.

Stocks Are Light.

"Limited stocks are still the cause of steadiness in all branches of textiles. Holders are not urging sales, and buyers show a disposition to wait. Purchases of cotton goods are influenced by the prospect of cheaper raw material after the new crop begins to move. Tardy deliveries of sample pieces by the woolen mills have caused complaint among the clothiers and fall orders are not placed freely. No change of importance has occurred in leather. Hides are again strong, with Texas steers leading the market, and foreign dry hides do not yield to lower bids.

"Grain markets have shown the effect of conflicting crop estimates and weather reports.

"Failures for the week numbered 162 in the United States, against 179 last year, and twenty in Canada, compared with twenty-three a year ago."

July 1, 1901, to date corn exports are 20,082,096 bushels, against 188,988,737 last season."

Use enough space and enough words to tell your story. A story half told is unsatisfying and seldom remembered.—Business Problems.

The Des Moines Capital and the Philadelphia Record are two successful papers that run in a conspicuous place in every issue wise sayings about advertising. The publishers find that it stimulates business.

Now and again there is an item in the newspapers concerning the birth of a puny baby so small that a quart cup holds it comfortably. If the article told all the facts it would probably tell also of a mother who in weakness and misery had looked forward to the baby's advent with shrinking and fear.

To have fine, healthy children the mother must be healthy, and it is the common testimony of mothers that the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only promotes the mother's health but also gives her strength to give her child.

"Favorite Prescription" accomplishes these results by tranquilizing the nerves, promoting a healthy appetite, and giving refreshing sleep. It increases physical vigor and gives great muscular elasticity, so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best of tonics for nursing mothers.

"I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. W. G. Stephens of Allia, Northampton County, Va. "Before my third little boy was born I took six bottles. He is the finest child and has been from birth, and I suffered very little from it. I can never tell you how much I owe to this medicine. I am now using it to keep my strength up."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am troubled very much with the whites, and a bearing down of the womb. My back aches so that I am hardly able to work. Will you kindly inform me what to do as I am suffering most terribly."—Miss MAY BUECHNER, Middle Village P. O., Long Island, N. Y. (Mar. 17, 1900).

A Quart Baby.

Now and again there is an item in the newspapers concerning the birth of a puny baby so small that a quart cup holds it comfortably. If the article told all the facts it would probably tell also of a mother who in weakness and misery had looked forward to the baby's advent with shrinking and fear.

To have fine, healthy children the mother must be healthy, and it is the common testimony of mothers that the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription not only promotes the mother's health but also gives her strength to give her child.

"Favorite Prescription" accomplishes these results by tranquilizing the nerves, promoting a healthy appetite, and giving refreshing sleep. It increases physical vigor and gives great muscular elasticity, so that the baby's advent is practically painless. It is the best of tonics for nursing mothers.

"I gladly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. W. G. Stephens of Allia, Northampton County, Va. "Before my third little boy was born I took six bottles. He is the finest child and has been from birth, and I suffered very little from it. I can never tell you how much I owe to this medicine. I am now using it to keep my strength up."

OUR WORKING GIRLS.

Help and Health for Those Who Now Cry, "Oh! Dear. I am Really Not Well Enough to Work, But I am Obligated To."

How often these significant words are spoken in our great mills, shops, and factories by the poor girl who has worked herself to the point where nature can endure no more and demands a rest! The poor sufferer, broken in health must stand aside and make room for another. The foreman says, "If you are not well enough to work you must leave, for we must put some one in your place."

Standing all day, week in and week out, or sitting in cramped positions, the poor girl has slowly contracted some deranged condition of her organic system, which calls a halt in her progress and demands restoration to health before she can be of use to herself or any one else.

To this class of women and girls Mrs. Pinkham proffers both sympathy and aid. When these distressing weaknesses and derangements assail you, remember that there is a remedy for them all. We have on record thousands of such cases that have been absolutely and permanently cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, restoring to vigorous health and lives of usefulness those who have been previously sorely distressed. Read the following letter.

Here is the Story of Thousands of Young Women who are Helped to Health by Mrs. Pinkham.
